

Different names for different shapes

Jess thinks that since hexagons and octagons look the same, they should have the same name.

Find as many ways as you can to show Jess that they are different.

