

What's next?

Imagine you have an envelope with one yellow counter and three blue counters in it.

1. If you take out one counter without looking, what colour might it be?
2. What colour is it most likely to be?
3. If the counter you took out was yellow and you decided to take out another counter, what colour might the second counter be? Explain your answer.